

DESPERATE CHARACTERS
MAY BE P. O. ROBBERS

Two Suspicious Men Are Arrested
By Detectives Today.

SAFE BLOWING TOOLS IN CLOTHES

It Is Said---Police Withhold Names and Information Pending Information From Outside Which Has Been Written For

Two suspicious characters---believed to be safe blowers, and possibly much wanted postoffice robbers---were arrested on the north side this morning by Detective Taylor. The two men, both of whom are comparatively young, were handcuffed and brought to central police station where they were confined immediately. It is understood that safe blowing tools were found upon them when they were searched and that there is evidence that the men are both desperate characters. It is also reported that they are wanted for postoffice robberies which have been going on about this part of the country, but the police refuse to either affirm or deny this report. It has been practically admitted by the police that the men are wanted elsewhere for crimes, and a letter has been dispatched by Acting Chief Weber, to which a reply is expected tomorrow. The letter contains a description of the men and if the suspicions of the police are verified by the reply it is certain two much wanted crooks have been captured. The police are reticent regarding the arrest and refuse to give out the names given by the men, until further information concerning them can be secured. It has been hinted that they are another section of the Eddie Fay gang of postoffice robbers, but there is little to verify this suspicion, except the fact that burglars tools were found upon them, and the marked silence of the police authorities.

NEW SIDEWALK ORDINANCE
MAKES BOARD TROUBLE

Sidewalk Lines Would Look Like a Checker Board if Provisions
Were to be Followed.

As a result of the passage of the ordinance providing that all new sidewalks be laid on lot lines the office of the board of public works is besieged by indignant taxpayers, and members of the board are distracted over the disturbance the new ordinance has created. Members of the board are vehement in their declarations that the ordinance is impractical, and will eventually result in making sidewalk lines very irregular, instead of uniform as aimed by the passage of the measure. In some blocks in the city, President Beckwith explained this morning, every sidewalk is a foot or two off the lot line. One man in the middle of the block finds he has to lay a new sidewalk, calls a surveyor in accordance with the new ordinance and discovers that he must lay his sidewalk a foot or more inside of where all the other walks in the block are located. He takes the matter up with his neighbor and the latter advises him to see the city engineer. The latter refers him to the board of public works and this body ponders while the citizen registers his complaint. "The only reasonable thing to do in these cases, of which we have called to our attention any number," said President Beckwith, "is to allow the citizen the privilege of putting his new sidewalk on the line of the old one. It isn't according to the provision of the sidewalk ordinance, but it is the best thing to do if we desire to have our sidewalks uniform. Yes, we are certainly having our troubles with this ordinance, and expect to as long as it remains in force."

CONDUCTORS
TO WATCH
KIDS.

Hereafter conductors on all lines in Wisconsin will be more careful in passing children under five years old free and will be strict in the age limit which admits children to half fare. Under the new law passed by the legislature ticket sellers and conductors have been informed by the railroad companies that great care should be taken in the selling of children's tickets. If for instance, a child of five and under twelve years of age is carried free without the collection of one-half fare, or if a person twelve years of age is carried on a one-half fare it would be discrimination from the legal tariff and is prohibited by law.

OYSTER SEASON
RETURNS

With the reappearance of the letter "R" in the name of the month, today, oysters will come into the market once more--and in anticipation of a lively trade in this favorite food, some of the local dealers have laid in a supply of the bivalves. Although Sept. 1 marks the formal opening of the season oysters do not become a staple commodity on the market until the middle of October, when it is possible to handle them without loss from warm weather. Early shipments of oysters come to Milwaukee and other cities of the west, either in the shell or packed in sealed cans. The bulk product is not sent out until the weather becomes cooler as they are exceedingly sensitive and spoil quickly, unless heavily iced.

"Oysters are not plentiful now and they will not be until later in the season, when the law will permit dredging for them. This is the most expensive method of securing the mollusks and at the same time, much larger catches may be made. Wind and weather have considerable to do with the success of the oyster fishermen. Just now I am retailing the Rockaways at 20 cents a dozen and it gives me a fair margin of profit, even with the loss off. Those in cans will sell for from 40 to 50 cents a can at the beginning of the season and later they will become cheaper."

Mr. A. E. Andeburg and wife returned yesterday from the west where they have been visiting Mr. Andeburg's people. Mr. Andeburg is back at his post in the Heil shoe store today.

LAW IS OUT

Gilfillan Brings the News of Slaying

WHOLESALE LAW BREAKING

At West Salem and Vicinity--The Warden Is Notified.

Twelve hours before the open season for game went into effect hunters residing in West Salem, Bangor, the town of Hamilton and other nearby communities killed or scared away the only large flock of ducks in the county.

The slaughter, which was one of the worst perpetrated just before the opening of the hunting season in this county for years, occurred at dusk last evening on the pond at Neshonoc two miles north of West Salem. Roy Gilfillan, son of J. M. Gilfillan, of West Salem, and traveling salesman for the Roosevelt company of this city, told the story of the hunt in the county clerk's office this morning, where he called to get a hunting license.

Hundred of ducks had been attracted to the pond during the past two weeks by the big field of wild rice which has sprung up there during the summer, making it the best feeding ground in the country. Shortly after sundown last evening people residing in the northern part of the village of Salem heard the reports of numerous guns on the pond. A couple of sportsmen made an investigation and discovered that a dozen or more hunters were secreted about the shores of the pond and were hammering away at the flocks of young ducks which flew hither and thither as fast as they could empty and reload the magazines in their shotguns.

Highly enraged the young hunters hastened back to the village and told of the merciless slaughter by the law-breakers. All the village hunters joined in condemning the actions of the violators but nothing could be done regarding the matter, the game warden being in La Crosse.

Mr. Gilfillan had no idea how many ducks were killed during the evening but said the slaughter must have been terrific as the pond swarmed with ducks yesterday. This morning before he took the train for La Crosse he went out to the pond and found the feeding grounds practically deserted by the birds, only a few small coveys still venturing to remain in the vicinity. Duck hunting has been spoiled for the Salem nimrods, in his opinion.

Judge Fruit Returns From Vacation

Judge J. J. Fruit returned last night from a ten days' vacation spent in Grant county, where he visited with relatives and spent most of his time out in the country. He returned to his judicial duties greatly refreshed and fully prepared for the arduous duties of the long September term of circuit court.

The judge was greatly interested in the mining developments in the city of Platteville, his old home, since his last visit to that vicinity. The city proper is dotted with mines and a once peaceful and quiet community has been turned into a scene of great business activity. New lead and zinc mines are constantly being developed, and many residents have accumulated fortunes within a few years. Assemblyman Duncanson McGregor, one of Judge Fruit's old friends has been one of the very fortunate prospectors, nearly all of his investments having panned out well, and he is at the present time interested in a half dozen companies just starting on new ventures there.

When Peace Treaty Is Signed, Then Japanese Will Withdraw Their Army, And Not Before--- Mikado Confirms Peace.

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)
PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 1.--The Russians desired the truce should go into effect immediately. The Japanese desire it should not become effective until after the formal treaty of peace has been signed. The Russians finally yielded and an anomalous situation was presented that an agreement had been entered into to quit fighting but the truce will not go into effect until the actual peace treaty has been signed.

The Russians are plainly displeased at the stand taken by the Japanese. One declared afterward it was "ridiculous contentment, but we were forced to yield." The explanation of the Japanese demand is that the armistice prevents actual fighting but holds the armies ready for immediate resumption of hostilities. Sato made the official announcement confirming the statement that it would not be effective immediately. Proclamation of Armistice. PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 1.--The proclamation of armistice to go into effect immediately was drawn up by the envoys at the Hotel Wentworth without the special formality of a meeting at the navy yards. It will at once be cabled to Oyama and Linvitch. The armistice proclamation was signed at high noon. Mikado Approves Terms. PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 1.--The formal announcement was made this morning that a message was received from the emperor of Japan approving the peace terms and consenting to an armistice. A difference of opinion arose in regard to the arrangement of the details left to the commanders in the field. The Japanese wanted it concluded here. It was decided the envoys will meet tomorrow and sign the protocol of Tuesday's meeting and read over the completed first draft of the treaty. President Declines Invitation. PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 1.--The president has declined invitations to attend the signing of the treaty and to accompany the party into the White mountains. The treaty will probably be signed Tuesday. It will be a simple occasion and will take place in the conference room at the navy yard.

DEPEW SAYS HIS IMPROVEMENT COMPANY WENT TO THE DOGS.

Story of the Loan is Told and Explanation Offered.

New York, Sept. 1.—Announcement is made by the officers of the Equitable Life Assurance society that the indebtedness to the society of the Depew Improvement company was paid yesterday afternoon, the principal and interest amounting to $293,850.82. The correspondence incident to the transaction was also, at the suggestion of President Paul Morton, made public to the end, Morton said, that an impression unjust to Senator Chauncey M. Depew might be removed.

The correspondence consists of three letters of even date, the second being the one of most interest to the public, as it is from Senator Depew to President Morton, states explicitly his part in the transaction between the improvement company and the Equitable society, and points out that he declares are inaccuracies in published statements through which a grave injustice has been done him.

Paid Cash for His Share.

Among other things Senator Depew says: "I had nothing to do with the organization of the Depew Improvement company, not even authorizing the use of my name; nor was I in any way connected with it until, five years after its incorporation, I purchased for $100,000 in cash a one-fifteenth interest in the stock of the company. The company at that time had a tract of land consisting of about 2,700 subdivided lots and 265 acres not subdivided.

Loan was Abundantly Secured.

"The Equitable Life loaned $250,000 upon 1,575 of the company's lots. These lots were selected as constituting the most valuable tracts there. At the time the mortgage was made these lots were selling—the lowest at $300 and the highest at $600 each. The valuation placed upon the plot by the Equitable appraisers at that time was $393,750, and upon the balance of the land owned by the company $540,000, a total valuation of the property of $933,750. An appraisal was at the same time made and submitted to the Equitable by William B. Cutter, one of the leading real estate men of Buffalo, in which he appraised the value of the lots loaned on at $768,000.

Slump in Real Estate.

"In 1901 a real estate depression set in and about Buffalo which lowered values and checked the growth in the town of Depew. It was at this time, Oct. 7, 1901, and not when the loan was made, in January, 1898, that the insurance department appraised the part of the property covered by the Equitable's mortgage at $150,000."

Denies All the Charges.

Depew then recites the charges that have been made against him, denying each. Of the charges which related to transactions resulting from the default of the company and the foreclosure of the loan by the Equitable he says that as a result of the company's embarrassment a reorganization was determined upon, and though there were unavoidable delays the plan was progressing as rapidly as possible. There was never any other purpose than that the Equitable should be fully protected.

will be studied, and data will be secured by which arguments for the work of construction can be pressed. Every member of the rivers and harbors committee who has been re-elected to congress has been sounded, and is said to be committed to vote for a favorable report on an appropriation sufficient to put the work well under way.

Representative Lorimer is a member of the committee, and he took occasion, not long ago, to pilot his fellow members over the projected route and to get knowledge of their opinions. Speaker Cannon is an Illinois man, and while under ordinary conditions the speaker does not let his mind be known upon matters requiring government expenditures, his feelings on the matter of the water way are no secret to the other Illinois representatives, who are certain that they will have the speaker's aid in the project.

From the war department there recently has come a report on the feasibility of a channel for great ships between Chicago and the gulf. The report, which has not been given general circulation, is in possession of several of the members from Illinois. In this document the government is on record as regarding the deep water way construction as a perfectly feasible proposition, and the report will be used to advantage by the Illinois representatives when they get to Washington.

It has been alleged by some few opponents of the great water way plan that the expense would be prohibitive. The congressmen will have expert testimony to present which will go to show that the outside cost of construction cannot be more than $30,000,000, and that possibly it will be as low as $25,000,000. For years the construction of the ship channel between Chicago and the gulf has been referred to as a dream of Representative Lorimer, who has been an advocate of the work in season and out.

DEEP WATERWAY FROM CHICAGO TO GULF PLAUSIBLE.

Plan May be Carried at Next Session of Congress.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—"Knowing that the members of the committee are favorable to the plan, and with a united delegation and public sentiment back of it, I am certain that a provision for beginning work on the deep water way connecting Chicago with the gulf will be included in the next river and harbor bill in the house of representatives." This is what Representative Lorimer says with reference to this great project.

Will Be Begun Within a Year.

In fact work on the deep water way for sea-going vessels, connecting Chicago with the Gulf of Mexico, will be begun within a year if the carefully but quietly laid plans of the Illinois delegation in congress bear the fruit which the members fully expect. For weeks the Illinois delegation has been making preparations to insure the success of a measure to be introduced at the coming session of congress which will authorize the starting of the construction of the big channel, and with the work once started under government auspices the representatives say that it must of necessity be carried to completion.

Party to Go Over the Report.

Representative Lorimer has a big steam launch in the harbor of Chicago, and on it, as soon as yellow fever abates in the south, as many of the Illinois representatives as the boat can accommodate will start on a journey for the gulf by way of the Illinois and Mississippi rivers. The trip will be made at the expense of the members. Thus far these representatives have signified their intention to make the tour: Joseph V. Graff, Howard M. Snapp, Philip Knopf, Martin B. Madden and William Lorimer. The addition of one other representative will complete the passenger list of the Remolol, the name by which the new launch is known.

PROSPECTS LOOKS VERY ROSY

Doesn't Seem to Be Any Opposition—Cost Not More Than $30,000,000.

Barring the substitution of the old canal for the drainage channel, the trip which the Illinois delegation will take will be over the route of the proposed deep-water Chicago and gulf connection. Every mile of the way

The delegates decided in favor of home rule for municipalities. In a discussion of a paper which reviewed the legislation for cities passed by the legislature of 1905 Ald. Henry Smith of Milwaukee dwelt on the time lost in needless legislation at Madison. He insisted that each council should pass its own ordinances and be allowed by the state legislature to manage its affairs so long as it did not conflict with state laws.

Henry E. Legler of Madison, secretary of the Wisconsin Free Library commission, said that there were 126 public libraries in the state, receiving $172,000 annually, but $116,000 of that amount goes to fifteen libraries. Of twenty-four cities represented at the conference eight were given libraries by Andrew Carnegie and sixteen cities nearly all of small population, have built their own libraries.

Graduate Manager Downer gave it out that Robinson would try for center, Remp went to work in the university gymnasium to get in shape for hard work. Robinson and Remp are so bitter at each other as to be almost unique in college sportindom, and it may be the prospect of Robinson filling the shoes of center rush that has made Remp display an earnest spirit with reference to getting his standings and training table account in shape to entitle him to fill out his four years in football at Wisconsin.

When the Bijou theatre reopens Monday afternoon a select bill will be offered for the opening week, made up of a number of prominent vaudeville artists from the best theatres in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrell will produce an original comedy creation, "Fun in an Art Studio." Miss Ethel Jackson, a charming soubrette, is also on the bill; De Coe, a famous balancer and equilibrist, is a feature and the Gardner children will form something of the ordinary in their characteristic songs and dances. Ed. B. and Rollo White present a scientific athletic farce, "The New Boarder."

The motion picture machine will present a tragedy in a coal mine This is a wonderful picture, taken 1,500 feet below the earth, and depicts the miners at their work, the explosion, flooding of the mine and the rescue.
Mr. Arthur Jackson, baritone, will sing "Would You Care."

THE SPECTACULAR DRAMA TOMOR- ROW NIGHT

Lincoln J. Carter's stirring melodrama, "The Heart of Chicago," will be on at the La Crosse theatre tomorrow matinee and night. The plot of "The Heart of Chicago" is based on the great Chicago fire showing the western metropolis thrown in confusion and chaos at the time of the great catastrophe. Men, women and children are seen hurrying pell mell across the stage carrying their valuables, household goods, clothing, etc., in which pandemonium reigns supreme. But the most realistic and novel scene is that of the great engine effect. In the horizon is seen a tiny speck of light, the headlight of the locomotive which comes nearer and nearer and grows larger and larger until fully at the lapse of ten minutes it becomes clearer, the engine bell and whistle is faintly heard, growing louder and louder until it gradually becomes "dead on" and stops with hissing steam, clanging bell, and the roar of a real locomotive to the footlight and stops at the brink of the open draw bridge at the signal of the heroine who has thrown the danger signal. The audience rises unconsciously in their seats at such a realistic picture no matter how many times they have seen it. This is without exception the cleverest piece of stage mechanism ever presented before the public and Mr. Carter has been offered any amount of money for his patent.

The cast is exceptionally clever this season, and several clever specialties are promised.

RELEASED.

New York Herald, July 10: The costumes of "The Paraders" company, which were seized by the custom authorities several days ago, were today released duty free and entered quisite productions of the Parisian modiste's art and will simply set the ladies wild with delight who have the pleasure of seeing this attraction.

sician and surgeon.

RURAL LIFE DEPICT- ED ON STAGE.

"My Friend From Arkansas," which appears at La Crosse theatre Sunday night, Sept. 3, is a play that will give you a true picture of the rural life of the south, showing a fine contrast between the noble, unselfish character of the southern farmer and the cunning money mad grasping machinations of the city—so-called financial manipulators. Giving a true and unbiased picture of the drole southern country boy and girl, who keep the audience in an uproar of laughter from the time the curtain rises until it drops on the last act. Six high class vaudeville specialties are introduced between the acts, including "Gordon Gilbert," the original Cali-Frisco Boys, emperors of German comedians. Prices, 10, 20, 30c.

A baseball enthusiast turns to the sporting page with less eagerness than the man who wants to buy a house turns to the real estate ads.—
and there could hardly be a stronger comparison than this.

ONE LONE TARGET HIT.

It must be a relief to Frank C. Powell to be finally relieved of his duties in the city engineering department. No man who has not worked for a dissatisfied employer can appreciate the unpleasantness of that sensation. When Mr. Powell said recently that 99 per cent of the people of this city desired that another be appointed to take his place, he probably was close to the mark. A graceful withdrawal, therefore, was honestly desired by the official who, no matter what truth there may have been in gossip about his private life, was always a pleasant fellow to meet, intelligent, entertaining, capable and active.

Without feeling that Mr. Powell has been substantially vindicated from the more or less vague charges against him, The Tribune feels regret that the termination of an unpleasant affair from which it had been hoped a thorough investigation of the manner in which the business of the public has been conducted would result, has been merely the making of a scape goat against a man against whom but a fraction of suspicion directed itself. If that were the end of it, it would be as well that Mr. Powell were back in office. Developments have conspired to make a man already laden with troubles infinitely more painful than any political worries, bear burdens of which the bulk probably belonged to others. If the departure of smiling Frank Powell from the community were actually the end of it all, The Tribune would regret that it had been instrumental in his going.

But, Fate willing, that is not all. The crying need of full investigation into public affairs that was on everybody's tongue a week ago, is still the need of the hour. All the rumored wrongs are none the less wrongs, if they exist at all, simply that Mr. Powell is now a private citizen. The hecloud of murky rumors still hangs over La Crosse; its good name is besmirched, and must be cleansed. There must be had that searching inquiry into various matters that will give Mr. Powell and others full vindication or make guilty people pay the proper penalties. In that happy day when there are no longer rumors of lids in La Crosse, may it finally have been determined that Public Opinion grievously wronged Mr. Powell. And may the gratifying news find him in the enjoyment of prosperity and happiness.

In the meantime, with the forceful assistance of Mr. Woods, things will doubtless shape themselves for an early inquiry by a lawful body of inquisitors into all the things that are daily whispered to exist under cover of certain mysterious "lids" in "our beautiful city."

The Tribune wishes Walter S. Woods abounding success in his new office. It hopes to see next year set a new pace for prosecution of public improvements. It wishes that, with the remarkable vigor and untiring industry he is certain to bring to the work that is before him, he may enter upon a long career of usefulness in this community where he has become a familiar figure in the activities of a commonwealth that, for a half dozen years at least, has been moving forward with certain strides. The labors before him are heavy, the trials many; but with rugged health and tireless ambition, he is amply equipped to push forward to success.

FROST WARNING SENT TO CRANBERRY GROWERS

Warnings were sent out yesterday by the local weather bureau to the owners of Wisconsin cranberry marshes that indications pointed to a heavy frost last night and that it would be advisable to flood them in order to save the fruit.

Washington authorized the announcement early in the day that there was every indication of a rapidly declining temperature in Wisconsin by the Chicago office and distributed from this point. It was predicted that there would be a minimum temperature of 35 degrees at least, and that it might possibly go lower than that.

"The crop is now practically ready to be harvested," said one of the local officials yesterday, "and the work of picking the berries will begin within a few days. All of the marsh owners have made arrangements whereby they can flood them on short notice, and I have no doubt that they have already done so. The cranberry crop this year promises to be especially fine and abundant."

THE JOLLIER.

The mayor's refusal to go into executive session made a distinct favorable impression—Leader-Press.

On Mr. Woods, perhaps. The fact probably was that the mayor did not want to undergo the unpleasant informality of letting the aldermen know that he proposed to ignore their wishes as to the appointment of a city engineer. He is entitled to sympathy in the matter as a discussion of his intentions would no doubt have been embarrassing.

NEWS ITEM.

Messrs. Powell and Woods have been closely associated in the work of the engineering department.—Leader-Press.

NO MR. TORRANCE HAS!

Both parties have now become jointly responsible for the conduct of the engineering department.

WITH THE GAG?

Mayor Torrance should be a prominent figure at Racine today. He has shown the other mayors how to run a city government.—Leader-Press.

THE PENNANT.

We've been fishing for the pennant, As ambitious roosters might; We've been fishing for the pennant, And we think we've got a bite, We're reaching for the landing net, And hoping that we're right— Realizing that to land 'im We must hold on tight!

The story that a caucus of republican councilmen resulted in an agreement to support Mr. Woods against Mr. Mueller, should be denied by the aldermen if it is untrue; it puts some of them in the light of double-dealers, and reflects insincerity in their avowed purpose to have a new deal in the engineering department. It is now the impression that petty politics drowned civic virtue in places from which loud howls about "graft" have been coming. It wasn't cute or astute to connive at the spanking the mayor gave people who have dared believe that he is simply a servant of the public. A boomerang has been thrown into space.

SILENCE.

(Dedicated to Pat Mahany.)

"The noisy mouth reflects the idle antics of the unproductive brain. No great thing was ever developed by a mind too weak to control the tongue that speaks its thoughts. Much shouting from the housetops makes some men happy, but who makes nothing more valuable than noise is not a constructive being.—America Chicagoan.

To misquote a man—even an alderman—is a piece of journalistic rascality that a very few papers (usually owned by public service companies) gleefully indulge in. There are papers and people who question whether the enjoyment of spite is a sufficient compensation for a lie. However, one lie more, more or less, will not make much difference with the final score.—FANNY FAN.

JUST LIFE

The league of municipalities will probably miss some demonstrations by failing to come to La Crosse in 1906.

Chauncy Dewey is making a new after-dinner speech. In this case it is evident Chauncy "lunched" on the spoils of high finance. The old, familiar ring of humor is lacking from his new monologue.

Some day the "Story of Frank Powell" may be the title of a drama of real life that will reveal some local conditions in a new light. Were such a story to be written by one thoroughly acquainted with the facts, Powell would appear in a new light, and a better one, though gloomy in its tragedy.

Our baseball team certainly seems to be the Pink of perfection.

THOSE RURAL GOSSIPS.

(From Preston Times.) Threshing is all the go these days in our neighborhood. Henry Sanden leaves us next Monday for Canada. Many tears have been rolling down the cheeks of his beloved friends and are still rolling. Last Sunday night all the sports took their best girls out for a ride, but the dark night was against them. On their way home again one young couple lost their way.

If a party of three, two ladies and a young man are walking along the road side by side and the ladies change their place for one side to the other the young man should then take the hint and walk on behind.

The west Harmony correspondent reported in the last week's News that some of their gentlemen were wearing a bright smile, but Charley was not. We are sorry for Charley, but we are sure the correspondent is not one of those gentlemen wearing the smile.

There is one man amongst our young people that really wears a smile. We hope it will stay with you, Tom.—W. V. K.

THE SPECTATOR.

An enthusiastic socialist agitator who was holding forth on an empty drygoods box at the corner of Third and Main streets Wednesday night furnished an incentive for one of the well known local democrats to expound Jeffersonian logic at the same time. Matt Spah, tolltaker on the wagon bridge, was the man who dared to question the socialist arguments, and the dialogue which ensued after he had put his first question attracted a large crowd. The public speaker was there with the fluent tongue and large vocabulary, but Matt had some ideas of his own which he made equally as forcible, in the language of the street. Matt got the best of the first part of the argument but his data was limited, while the socialist was imbued with sentiment and facts contained in a dozen or more volumes of literature which he was paying the way to sell to the crowd of interested listeners gathered around the drygoods box.

The socialist finally compared the trusts of the country to a robber who comes along with a gun and takes all of one's money. "Now," said Mr. Socialist, "What would you do if the robber should stumble as he was about to leave you and his gun should fall where you could get hold of it? Would you demand of the robber to return your money, or would you hand the gun back to the robber and say, 'Here's your gun, good Mr. Robber?'"

"An honest man would hand back the gun," replied the tolltaker. "Well, I'll be—I take off my hat to you for an honest man," replied the speaker. "You've got them all skinned."

Matt made his escape.

Exit the straw hat, enter the oyster; ring out the summer, ring in the fall; forget the cooling ice cream soda and think of the luscious bivalve. Father Time in his relentless flight has passed another season, and with the coming of Sept. 1 today will usher in the time of falling leaves and ripening fruit.

Dame fashion has decreed that whoever shall be caught wearing the straw hat or drinking ice cream sodas after today, shall be banished to the outer darkness and labeled as not of the elect. The day of the soft hat and the derby is at hand, and there is no one to say them nay.

Americans, however, and especially those of La Crosse, are liable to think more of their comfort than of fashion's decrees, and it is probable that, weather permitting, straw hats will be seen on the street for several weeks yet.

While oysters do not become a staple of commodity on the market until about the middle of October, several shipments have already been received by La Crosse dealers, although they are kept stored in ice boxes and undergo frequent packings in ice.

Early shipments of oysters come to the dealers either in the shell or packed in tin cans, hermetically sealed. The bulk oysters do not come until later in the season when they may be shipped with safety.

Switching Crew Has Narrow Escape.

Derailment of the switch engine and one car in the rear of the Lutheran hospital last night came near resulting fatally for members of the engine crew, consisting of H. Woll, engineer R. N. Cayo, fireman, and G. H. Dickson, student fireman.

The accident occurred as the engine was leaving the Gurd brewery yards with four cars. On going into the yards the derail switch was thrown to allow the passage of the train, and after the passage of the engine was put back to keep the main track clear. The switch was not thrown again and upon coming out the engine was derailed upon striking the crossing. Woll applied the air brakes as the engine ploughed through the sand and jumped together with Dickson. Cayo was caught between the engine and tender as the former started to overturn. The engine when it came to a stop was laying well over on one side. Cayo was released and found to be uninjured. A wrecking crew was sent from Grand Crossing and today put the engine back on the rails.

Kleeber Causes Arrest of a Butcher

State Treasury Agent L. Kleeber has caused the first arrest to be made in this city under the new state law licensing peddlers. F. Briebach, the meat man, who conducts a meat wagon, is charged by Mr. Kleeber with being a peddler and his case will come to trial upon the return to the city of Attorney Withrow, whom he has engaged to defend him.

SOUTHEASTERN TO CARRY MAILS.

Through the efforts of Congressman Esch the La Crosse & Southeastern has been granted the privilege of carrying mail. The contract has been duly made out and signed by representatives of the government, approved at Washington and the first mail will be carried over the line Sept. 18.

Under this arrangement the star route between the postoffice here and Coon Valley will be discontinued. Contract with E. H. Derr expired June 1 and was renewed owing to negotiations which were in progress for carrying the mail by railroad.

None of the rural routes out of towns along the Southeastern will be discontinued. Coon Valley, Chaseburg and some other small places this side will be greatly benefitted by the new arrangement, receiving mail before noon each day, instead of the morning of the day after.

ONALASKA SCHOOLS

The Onalaska school will be opened Sept. 11 with the following teachers in charge:

Principal—Prof. J. H. Jordan.
Assistants—Miss Beulah Post of Dubuque and Miss Drake of Black River Falls normal school.

Grammar—Miss Howie of Winona.
The teachers elected for the grades are Misses Edna Hughes, Emma Grams, Hope Williams, Grace Harris, and Mayo of the Menominee training school.

Miss Grake, Howie and Mayo are the new teachers engaged to fill the vacancies made by the resignations of Mrs. Don E. Griffin and Misses Mina Wasch and Eugenia Glasston.

DEATH STOPS SUIT.

The recent death of Mrs. Christiana Bohm will have the effect of abating the $10,000 damage suit against the city of Winona which was instituted by her prior to her death on the ground that the city was responsible for her injuries, when she was run down by a bicyclist, in not enforcing the ordinance prohibiting bicycle riding on the sidewalk.

There is some speculation as to whether there will be any further proceedings in the matter. No action can be taken until an administrator of the estate is appointed. When this is done it will be possible for the administrator to commence a damage suit against the city for the benefit of the next of kin, which in this case is the daughter. It will be impossible, however, to bring this suit for so large an amount as the original one, as the highest amount of damages allowed after death under the statutes is $5,000.

MISSING LUMBER- MAN REPORTED ALIVE.

MENOMINEE, Mich., Sept. 1.—Duncan McGregor, the missing Peshigo lumberman, is again reported alive. A check of $10 drawn for and endorsed by McGregor was received at the Menominee bank yesterday. It was drawn by the Grand Lumber company. It is thought that McGregor may have been working in the woods, while the entire northwest was being scoured for some trace of him.

NEGRO KILLED BY MATE HAD A RECORD

Julius Davis, deceased, the southern negro who made a murderous assault on the first and second mates and others on the steamer Quincy at Eagle Point Sunday evening, Aug. 20, had a record, and a bad one at that. At St. Louis, where he was known, and where he shipped on the Quincy, he was the most feared negro on the levee and had the reputation of being bloodthirsty and murderous.

Capt. John Killen, who was in charge of the boat when the tragedy, which later resulted in the negro's death at Mercy hospital, Dubuque, occurred, went to St. Louis, where he personally investigated the negro's character and from people who knew him around the levee he got the same story.

None would denounce the negro until they knew he was dead. They feared him to this extent. He was known to have been the instigator of several shooting affrays and was given a clear field when he started trouble. The negro was 22 years of age and a giant in stature, standing six feet in height and weighing 190 pounds.

"The second day out on the trip from St. Louis," remarked Capt. Killen, "it was evident that Davis had every negro on the boat afraid of him and treated them pretty much as he pleased. His actions for days portended trouble and it was only a matter of time until it came. It was our intention to get rid of him at St. Paul but he could not behave himself that long."

Continuing Capt. Killen said: "Davis was the most bloodthirsty negro I ever saw and was typical of his peculiar specie. He was what is known as a blue gummed country 'nigger.' They are known for their exceedingly quarrelsome disposition and are as bold and fearless as a lion. It is my opinion that if he should have secured enough revolvers he would have killed every man on the boat."

A SPIDER WEB SOCIAL

Miss Daisy Bice of 1312 Caledonia street entertained the members of the Epworth League of the Caledonia M. E. church last evening at a spider web social which proved to be one of the most amusing entertainments ever given and much credit is given to the hostess who so ingeniously arranged the "spider web" which the young men in the party slowly unravelled.

A number of names or numbers are put into a hat and all chose a number and then looked for a spool with the corresponding number. When they found it they started to wind their spool, and this is where the amusing part of the entertainment comes in, although it sometimes takes the members a long time to find their spool.

One of the boys had to go down into the cellar and another outside the house and up into a tree where he was pleased to find the end of his journey.

After this event was ended other games were played. Refreshments were then served and all enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Among those present were Misses Carrie Owens, Maude Miller, Blanche Covey, Maymie Nessler, Ollie Perry, Bessie Shaw, Cassie Smith, Leona Dodge, Margaret Rheinhardt, Lucy Williams, Irma Shackley, Dolly Shackley, Miss Boma, Edith Brooks, Ruth Howard, Mrs. Van Valer and Messrs. ## MIKADO AGREES TO ARMISTICE AND THE WAR IS SURELY OVER

THIS WAS ALL THAT WAS NEEDED TO MAKE SURE THE PEACE WORK

Lawyers Making Rapid Progress With the Peace Treaty.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 1.—Japan has agreed to the immediate conclusion of an armistice. At 11 p. m. yesterday Takahira went to Baron Rosen's room and explained that he and Baron Komura had received instructions to arrange terms of an armistice. Baron Rosen immediately communicated with de Witte, and it is probable that a meeting will be held today for the proclamation of a complete suspension of hostilities.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 1.—Rapid progress has been made in the drafting of the treaty of peace. Baron Komura, at de Witte's request, today will probably fix a day for its signature. Russia's consent to a suspension of hostilities reached de Witte last night in a cablegram from Count Lamsdorff. Although General Linewitch had been directed to hold himself in readiness to open with Field Marshal Oyama the negotiations for an armistice, the order for the suspension of hostilities and the signing of the treaty would not have gone forward from St. Petersburg until de Witte had been informed by Baron Komura that the emperor of Japan has also given his consent and has empowered Marshal Oyama to conduct the negotiations with the Russian commander in the field.

Rapid Progress with the Treaty.
So rapidly and well is de Martens, with Dennison, performing his delicate and important task of drafting the treaty that he was able to return from the navy yard last night to report to de Witte the practical completion of ten articles of the treaty. It is expected that the treaty will in its entirety consist of fifteen articles, exclusive of the preamble. Japan's original demands are said to have numbered thirteen. Only twelve, however, were presented to the Russians, as President Roosevelt is credited with persuading the Japanese plenipotentiaries before the convening of the conference to withdraw one of the conditions which he regarded as unjust.

De Witte Wants to Go Home.
Having waived three of the demands presented—the indemnity, the interned ships and the limitation of Russia's naval strength in the Far East—the Japanese final conditions were nine. De Witte is exceedingly anxious to sail for home on Sept. 12. In the meantime he desires to take leave of President Roosevelt and personally present the thanks of his emperor for the president's assistance. He is, therefore, doing what he can to hasten the drafting of the treaty, which he would probably be prepared to sign by Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, at the latest, unless some obstacle should arise.

They Are Ancient Difficulties.
The only difficulties which have thus far appeared have been to select the words that mean what the envoys want them to mean—which by the way is always the difficulty in such cases. Both de Martens and Dennison are selecting with great care the language of each article, in order that the treaty may furnish no ground for differences in the future, and accurately record the exact spirit as well as the substance of the agreements concluded in the conference by the plenipotentiaries.

Big Men Wanted In Insurance Probing.

New York, Sept. 1.—Subpoenas have been issued for the entire list of officers in five leading life insurance companies, summoning them to appear before the New York legislative insurance investigation committee at its opening session next Wednesday. Among the well known men for whom subpoenas have been made out are: John A. McCall, George W. Perkins, Darwin P. Kingsley, Thomas A. Buckner, Gaze E. Tarbell, George T. Wilson, H. R. Winthrop, Richard A. McCurdy, John R. Hageman, Haley Fiske and Frederick A. Burnham. Among those served are McCall, Perkins, Kingsley, Tarbell and Wilson.

So far as known no subpoenas have been issued for Senator Chauncey Depew or James Hazen Hyde. The latter is outside of the state, but his counsel is understood to have assured the investigators he will come to New York for the purpose of receiving service of the papers should they be made out.

RAILWAY CAN'T GET RID OF UNION PICKETS

Detroit, Sept. 1.—Judge Wauty, of the United States circuit court, has refused to grant a preliminary injunction to the Grand Trunk railway to prevent its striking machinists and shop employees at Port Huron, Mich., from picketing the company's shops, where non-union men are working.

Affidavits presented by the railway company, charging violence on the part of pickets, and counter affidavits of good behavior, presented by the men, were of such contradictory nature that the judge was unable to grant the application for a preliminary injunction. In announcing his decision Judge Wauty took occasion to warn the strikers against violence and disorder.

THIS HUSBAND FOR- GAVE HIS SIN- NING WIFE

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 1.—Mrs. Margaret Wilson, who deserted her husband, Abram Cox, fifteen years ago to elope with another man, has returned to her old home here and been reunited with her family, and it is said that her remarriage to her former husband will take place within a few days. Mrs. Wilson's story reads like fiction. Married to Abram Cox when she was only 16 years old against her own inclination and judgment, she was unable to learn to love him, and after several years of unhappiness, during which four children were born to them, she fled with Patrick Wilson and severed all ties with her family.

Cox secured a divorce and remarried. Wilson then married Mrs. Cox, but last summer, yielding to the entreaties of his eldest daughter by his first wife to return to care for his legitimate wife in her old age, he deserted the former Mrs. Cox. A few days ago Mrs. Wilson, now aging rapidly, turned to the scenes of her girlhood. She visited the home of her daughter, Mrs. Peter Ambrose, who almost fainted when she saw her mother.

Other members of the family were sent for, and finally old Abram Cox, his second wife long since dead, was induced to see his first spouse. A reconciliation was effected, and now it appears that the tragedy of these two lives is to be righted at last.

TWO YOUNG CAMP- ERS HAVE BAD NIGHT.

Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 1.—Thomas Durkee and Seymour Lin, two Galesburg young men who are spending the summer in the woods of northern Michigan write to their friends at home about a night experience. Having wandered some distance from their camp one afternoon, darkness came on before they reached the road leading to camp and they soon discovered they were lost. When the boys had covered about one-half of the distance to camp they began to hear the howls of wolves, that chased them for miles.

Upon reaching camp one of the boys started to enter the tent, but was startled by a vicious growl. He fired a revolver, their only weapon, in the direction of the sound and springing outside, followed by a bear. The boys climbed a tree close by, which fortunately was too small for the bear to climb, and remained there until day-break. In the morning the boys walked to Brevort, the nearest town, and made arrangements to have their camping outfit brought in. The boys followed the bear some distance, but lost track in a dense swamp.

Dynamite Can Fatal Target

Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 1.—Two youths named Jose Martinez and Hudore Romero were killed by the explosion of a box of dynamite and four tons of powder. They used the dynamite box for a target. The boys were rabbit hunting a half mile from Chama, Rio Arriba county. Not finding any game, when they reached the powder house of the Denver and Rio Grande Railway company, near Chama, they set up a box of dynamite as a target.

The box contained 400 pounds of the explosive and its explosion set off four tons of powder. The explosion shattered many windows in Chama and terrified the residents of the section for miles around the place.
